Say boys! did you notice how chesty Majorville is getting about the Agricultural Society? Let's show 'em how to grow wheat this year and clean up all the best varieties. A. L. Fryberger isn't saying much, but he's doing a lot of smiling these days. Just watch his exhibit.

Bob Connors returned last week from his sad journey to Greeley, Colo., where the body of his wife found its last resting place.

Louis Stephens arrived in Bassano last week with his wife and family, and is now waiting for the weather to let up before transferring his furniture and effects out to brother Dan's farm, where he is to be initiated into the mysteries of Alberta farming.

That fellow Oxley seems to have got somebody's goat with his slant at Bassano. Guess he was right anyhow. Bassano would look nice lone up like a bouquet with ribbons on, but who is going to wait on the farmers while Andy McKee and Jimmie Johnson are out sowing panicles and Currie and Flanagan are cultivating the maple trees, or Bob McLean, Findlay and Seale are digging potatoes. The only spare time they seem to have is when it's raining in July.

J. D. Laughlin has recently sold his farm to D. C. Fortney and left last week for Youngstown where he will dry farm.

A rumor is spreading round the colony that the projected railway through Gain has now been approved by Dan Stephens and that work will commence on it soon.

Wonder who "Clyne" Fryberger is and what it was he said to Currie last week? Guess it had something to do with the hereafter.

Two More Bassano Boys Back

During the past week two of Bassano's Veterans returned from England in the persons of Corp. F. L. Bond and Sergt. Rob Sinclair.

The former, who enlisted in 1916 in the Forestry Battalion, contracted pneumonia in England soon after his arrival there, and was not permitted to cross over the channel on his recovery, but was detailed for duty in England.

The latter enlisted in the American Legion, which was also recruited in 1916, and saw considerable active service before being transferred for special duty to the Labor Battalion.

Bassano begins to look more like its old self now that so many of her best known old timers are once more among us.

Oddfellows to Celebrate 100th Anniversary

The Independent Order of Oddfellows will shortly celebrate its centenary and, in keeping with the old traditions of the order, will seek God's blessing upon its work by attending Divine Service as a body.

The Anniversary Service will this year be held at the Anglican Church on Sunday next, May 4th, and every Oddfellow in the district is earnestly requested to join the local lodge on that date, and assist in making this 100th Anniversary a fitting memorial of the Order and its work. Further details next week.

CURRIE & MILROY, LIMITED., BASSANO

Haig Tells How Victory Was Won

London.—Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig in his final dispatch, just made public, presents a view in detail of the expansion and achievements of the British army, with many remarkable figures recorded. He treats the operations of the western front as a single continuous campaign, in which can be recognized the same general features and necessary stages that have been followed, of approximately equal strength, during all the conclusive battles of history.

"The high water mark of our fighting strength in infantry," says the British commander, "was only reached after two and a half years of continuous warfare, and the campaign had already been incurred." It was not until midsummer, 1916, that the artillery situation became even approximately adequate to the demands of major operations.

During the first battle, artillery ammunition had to be watched with the greatest care. During 1917, ammunition was plentiful, but the gun situation caused anxiety. It was only in 1918 that artillery operations could be conducted without any limiting consideration beyond that of transports.

"The margin with which the German onset of 1916 was stemmed was so narrow, and the subsequent struggle was so severe, that the word 'survival' seems to me the best term to describe the recovery and ultimate victory of the allies."

"The breakdown of Russia in 1917 probably prolonged the war by years, and the resulting gains in Italy in the autumn of 1917 necessitated the transfer of five British divisions to Italy at a time when their presence in France might have had far-reaching effects."

Sir Douglas records the interesting fact that more than half the British casualties in the fighting of 1918 occurred during the five months from March to July, when the allies were on the defensive. "The collapse of Germany's military power in the latter half of 1918," he says, "was the logical outcome of the fighting of the previous two years. It would not have taken place but for the period of complete exhaustion which ultimately German reserves. It is in the great battles of 1916 and 1917 that all have to seek for the secret of our victory in 1918. The value of cavalry in modern warfare is emphasized by Sir Douglas Haig, and in discussing the values of mechanical contrivances such as tanks, he observes that, immense as their influence might have been, they could not themselves decide a campaign. The one factor is to sustain infamy by whose sides the brave ones only can decisive victory be won."

The expansion of British personnel, armament, transport, railroads, construction and establishments of every kind in France is dwelt upon by the field marshal. Regarding machine guns, the British equipped each division one gun to 5000 infantrymen in 1916. The 480 pieces of artillery, with which the British took the field in 1914, were represented at the date of the armistice by 6437.

On the first days of the Somme battle of 1916, nearly 13,000 tons of

Hungary Can Pay Debts

Paris.—The mission to Hungary headed by General Jan Christian Smuts, has reported on the prospect of the payment of Hungary's debts.

The impression made by the commission, the report stated, was that there might be some chance of adjustment through friendly negotiations. Otherwise, it was added, it was difficult to see any chance whatever.

Artillery ammunition were fired by the British on the western front. On three days, Sept. 28, 29 and 30, 1918, 42,000 tons were expended, and in the three days of the crucial battle on September 27, 28 and 29, 1918, nearly 65,000 tons were fired by the British artillery.

Sir Douglas says that the historian may well appear most noteworthy, is the creation of the new British army, which was successfully built up in the four months of 1918.

The total of more than 327,000 German prisoners captured by us on the western front," says Sir Douglas, "is in striking contrast to the force of 100,000, comprising mostly captured fighting men, with whom we entered the war. That we should have been able to accomplish this stupendous task is due partly to the loyalty and devotion of our allies and to the splendid work of the royal navy, but to the wonderful spirit of the British race in all parts of the world."

Veteran Tells of a Terrible Experience

Before He Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Pestmaster of Hereford Points the Way to Health for Other Sufferers From Kidney and Bladder Trouble

Hereford, Que., April 14. (Special).—John Peabody, 82, a pestmaster here, is one of the many old people who claim to have received a cure for kidney trouble through the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Peabody is in his 84th year, but still retains the vigor of a man of 40 of his age. But he was not always thus. "For six years," he says, "I suffered from kidney and bladder trouble. I had those sharp, streaky, lightning pains in my muscles, even in my finger tips."

"In March, 1917, I was taken with a sharp, sharp, dreadful pain through my abdomen, groins, and the small of my back. I was confined to bed for a week, and during which time I often had to get up as often as twenty or thirty times a day."

"I had no relief, and I got little benefit till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. In three days I got relief, and now I am in full health again out of my system. I also rest much better at nights."

He suffers from kidney and bladder trouble which Dodd's Kidney Pills did not cure.

Newest Republic

London.—The proclamation of a Soviet republic in Salzburg, Germany, is reported in an Amsterdam dispatch to the Central News.

Ex-Kaiser Will Be Brought To Trial

Paris.—The responsibility of the German emperor for the war and the means for bringing him to trial before the allied tribunals, probably to be decided by the council of four. This follows the definite decision on the terms of reparation for war damages, whereby $5,000,000,000 must be paid within two years, and the amount of compensation assessed the remaining damage for a period of thirty years, beginning May, 1921.

Thus, one of the great obstacles which stood in the path of the rapid conclusion of the war has been removed, and the period of extreme tension over the inaction and the failure to secure tangible results is succeeded by a period of greater advance towards a permanent settlement.

The council of four has reached an agreement on the Saar valley. The valley unchanged but accords to agreement leaves sovereignty over France free of duty sufficient coal for the Lorraine iron industry and to replace the production of the mi-destroyed in the Lens mining district, with the privilege to the Germans of restoring Lens mines and thus releasing the Saar valley of the fact.

This agreement removes one of the most difficult obstacles to the conclusion of peace.

Thus the tension has been greatly reduced, and the remaining obstacle, which depends on the continuation of progress with respect to the remaining obstacles, notably the Saar valley, the Rhine frontier, the Adriatic issue and a number of lesser issues, will be still short of final settlement.

The agreement on responsibility for the war issue continued to have called for compromise between divided representations by the commandants of the German and French chancelleries. There was a practical agreement on the general responsibility of the German emperor for bringing the war, but division occurred as to whether it was feasible to bring him to justice before an international tribunal.

MAY FEED RUSSIA

$10,000,000 Monthly Required For Carrying Out of Problem

London.—Hans Hansen, director-general of the International relief organization, has requested Dr. Friedjof Nansen, head of the Norwegian food commission to the United States, to become chief of an international commission to investigate the possibility of feeding Russia on condition of the cessation of hostilities in Russia.

The dispatch says that £10,000,000 monthly will be required for the carrying out of the problem.

Amsterdam.—The visit to Paris of the Dutch Minister Van den Hoven, T. M. Meijer, a member of the agency says, has reference to the conclusion of a loan by neutral states to Germany of $200,000,000. The loan is to be made under the supervision of the allies, and is for the purpose of financing the reconstruction of continental Europe. Swiss and Scandinavian bankers, it is added, are participating in the negotiations.

The official press bureau issued the following statement:

"General Alencar reports that a new minister has been formed in Brazil, and that the new minister has been formed in Egypt. The new minister is General Alfonso Pasha as president of the council."

The provinces are quiet, but demonstrations by the peasants have occurred at some places. There were disturbances in parts of Cairo on April 9, the feature being hostility towards Armenians by parties of roughs."

London Will Observe Anzac Day

Grain Steamers Will Use Rhine

Berlin.—An American firm has bought merchandise with the allies by which grain steamers for Switzerland, coming from across the Atlantic, will pass down the Rhine to Strasbourg or Basel. Consequently the next grain steamers for Switzerland will go to Antwerp.

Fall of Odessa

Will Aid Bolsheviks

Paris.—The chief cause of anxiety in connection with the evacuation of Odessa by the allies and its occupation by the Bolsheviks lies in the fact that most fertile regions in Southern Russia have fallen into the hands of the Bolshevik forces, giving them immense resources of grain and minerals.

The reason for the allies' retreat was the constant increasing pressure of the Bolsheviks, who were able to maintain its supplies with greatest difficulty. The commander-in-chief decided to withdraw his troops, numbering approximately 30,000, from Odessa to Rumania and Constantinople.

The situation in Rumania and Poland is far from reassuring, even with these additional troops to help form a line of defense against the spread of Bolshevikism. The Rumanian Poles require the largest measure of support from the allies giving them with food, military equipment and organization.

It is regarded as essential in competent quarters that General Haller's Polish divisions should be given the maximum assistance possible, and that the rising strength of those groups who are contesting most vigorously the Bolsheviks' power.

Will Handle Land Settlement

Soldier Settler Will Be Practically Qualified by Board

Edmonton, Alta.—Sergeant Soldiers and others here are greatly elated at the decision of the soldier's land settlement board to establish an office here to handle land settlement for soldiers in Alberta. Saskatchewan was the first to have a similar office extensively. The decision of the Canadian Northern Railway to construct a line to run 25 miles northward from the city is partly responsible for the interest shown in the project. The board will open up an outlet of country well adapted for soldier settlement. The board will interview soldier settlers as to their qualifications to settle the land. If they have had no experience as farmers, the board will give them advice as to farming methods. They will be protected in his purchases against monopoly on the part of private firms which might wish to take advantage of their inexperience as farmers and stockmen.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR APRIL 20 — THE RIEHN LORD

1. the Visit of the Women to the Sepulchre (21:1).

They came early to see the sepulchre, but found it empty. They proceeded that of Mary Peter, James and John. "Women were last at the cross and Beat at the tomb."

2. The Earthquake (24:4).

This occurred when the glorious angel sent to call Jesus away from the tomb was not to allow Jesus to escape but to show that the tomb was empty. Christ needed not the help of a ghost to rise for he was raised by his own power. The seal of his atoning work upon the cross. The open tomb and the angel sitting upon the stone with calm dignity in his picture, God's triumph over death, the victory of the keeper is a sample of what all of Christ's enemies shall one day experience when he comes in glory to reign as King.

3. Jesus' Angel's Message to the Women (v. 6).

"Fear not!" (v. 5). While the enemies have occasion to fear, those who love the Lord receive good news from the emperor. The Lord will not leave them alone, those following him in suspense and dread. The tomb puts an end to all doubts and fears. It is the proof that the question of sin is dealt with and that the Lord will be with us in the hour of trial.

2. "Come see!" (v. 6). The angel said that the Lord had risen, and invited the women to see the place where he lay.

3. "Come quickly" (v. 7). The women must seek for themselves and then go tell the message. Experience must precede testimony. They were to go quickly to the disciples with the blessed message, with the assurance that the Lord would go before and meet them.

Jesus Meets the Women (v. 8-10).

The women rendered instant obeisance and were running to speak to the disciples. Jesus met them on the way. Those who have an experimental knowledge of Christ should speedily go to tell others of it. To him the Lord will appear, and bring joy.

4. Jesus' Christ's Resurrection (v. 11-13).

A. The Old Testament Scriptures told of the advent, death and resurrection of Christ. Christ's resurrection gave the seal of authentication to them. Christ rebuked the disciples on the way to Emmaus for their disbelief of the Scripture concerning the resurrection (Luke 24:13-22).

2. The reality of the divine person (Rom. 1:3). Jesus is indeed to be one with us. He died for us, coming from the dead (Matt. 16:21). He declared that no one could take his life from him. He had power to lay his life down and to pick it up again (John 10:18-19). He died for us, but will rise to do the life which he laid down must be resumed at the completion of his sacrificial offering. His coming forth from the grave proved that he was what he said he was.

3. The sufficiency of Christ's atoning sacrifice (Rom. 4:25). On the cross Christ exclaimed "It is finished." By the resurrection God declared to the entire universe that adequate compensation had been made for sin in his life.

The resurrection of Christ is God's certificate that an adequate sacrifice has been provided for us.

4. Our life and immortality (1 Cor. 15:20). He is the first fruits of them that sleep. We are the last fruits to come to life.

5. The guarantee that we shall live also." The guarantee that we shall live in the integrity of his being, spirit, soul and body shall live again is furnished us in Christ's death and resurrection.

6. "Want Order Maintained" (Rom. 14:17). We are the first fruits of them that sleep. We are the last fruits to come to life.

7. "And you yourself a lover of peace," said Mr. Rafferty. "I do," answered Mr. Dolan. "After intentionally dropping the brick on Casey?"

Sore Spots.

Among the common sights in Spring time are cold sores, pimples and boils, which, with a perversity peculiar to such abominations, almost invariably break out on the face and neck, causing not only pain but an embarrassment equal to and often exceeding the actual pain of the sufferer.

Now, if only pimples and boils were to locate in a less prominent part of a person's anatomy, they might necessitate a more or less aerobic performance at meal hours and other occasions when invited to take a seat, but in the main the soreness would be minimised by the absence of publicity and would be borne with a corresponding display of equanimity.

The Town of Bassano has a number of sore spots which have been created by the activity of spring and many which have been caused by sluggishness during the winter, and the unfortunate part about it is that they are all on the face and cause embarrassment and discomfort to everyone.

For instance, there are the two deep holes opposite the Hunter Hotel which should be filled in at once as they are not only unsightly but dangerous.

There is also the excavation made by Sam Whiting adjoining the Post Office which is a constant reproach to the aesthetic and the fencing round which is a menace to the skin and clothing of everyone.

The site of last year's skating rink is yet another sore spot which has broken out right on the Town's nose and should be treated without delay for it promises to be a magnificent breeding ground for all kinds of skeeter flies and other summer complaints.

If some kind tractor agent would demonstrate the power of his particular kind of machine and would plow and disc the land up, Mr. Oxley might be persuaded to demonstrate what could be done with vacant lots in this case.

Pile 30 or 40 bushels of seed in a wagonbox or other convenient place. Sprinkle with formalin solution mixed at the rate of one (1) pound of 37% to 40% formaldehyde to forty (40) gallons of water. This may be mixed in a barrel and stirred thoroughly. For sprinkling, an old bucket with the bottom punched full of holes is handy. About one gallon of the solution will be required to each bushel of grain. After sprinkling, shovel the grain over until every seed is wet. Then cover the grain with tarps or sacks and leave covered for six hours. It is necessary to cover the grain as the formalin gas is what kills the spores. Spread out to dry, when it will be ready to seed.

These are many others to be found but for the present we should be mighty thankful if the Council can be persuaded to attend to these.

Our townpeople should need little persuasion to set their own premises in order, for their health and comfort demands it of them.

Cleanliness and good citizenship go hand in hand. We trust very few of our townspersons will fall short of the appellation this year.

Syncope, Jazz and Melody; screams of delight, sighs of delight and instant demands for encores; a huge audience, an appreciative one, were the outstanding features of the Minstrels Concert last night, which was the most enjoyed and deservedly successful entertainment ever held in Bassano. Full report in next week's issue.

Huge Grain Losses Occur Annually From Smut

Agricultural Office D.N.R.-C.P.R.
BASSANO

Each year smut causes great losses in yields in many of our grain fields, where preventative measures were not taken against this parasite. Losses as high as 70 per cent have been reported, while losses of 10 per cent have been very common. Not is that all; the smut spores blow in all directions and contaminate the healthy seeds when the grain was threshed. For instance: Say one head out of every ten were smutty, it easily can be seen how that one head will contaminate the sound grain of the other nine heads. thereby not only causing a direct loss of 10 per cent but making the whole of the grain a malodorous mass, as well.

The grain buyer certainly will discriminate against this and will take it only at a reduced price.

Several different kinds of smut attack the grains such as, wheat, oats, barley and rye. The characteristic feature of these diseases is the appearance of fine dusty and dark colored masses, which grow and develop in the heads, where the grains should be. This material is parasitic and constitutes the spores of the smut fungus. In threshing, these small-kernels are pulverized easily and being so light are readily distributed through all of the grain, and thereby causing the maloder previously mentioned.

The most serious form of smut is that known as "stinking" or "bunt of wheat." When matured it is found to have replaced the kernels altogether in the form of smut-balls. A field of grain may be affected with this disease far worse than with any other, and would be easily recognised by the uninitiated, as it sometimes requires a practiced eye to recognise it readily. However, there is no mistaking its odor at threshing and in bad cases, a cloud of black colored dust can be seen arising from the machine.

Control.—Since clean grain becomes contaminated in threshing, sacking, storing and drilling, it is wise to treat all seed. This can be done economically and safely, by the use of formaldehyde. There are several good methods of applying formalin solution. Perhaps one of the most common and easiest, is the following.

Pile 30 or 40 bushels of seed in a wagonbox or other convenient place. Sprinkle with formalin solution mixed at the rate of one (1) pound of 37% to 40% formaldehyde to forty (40) gallons of water.

This may be mixed in a barrel and stirred thoroughly.

For sprinkling, an old bucket with the bottom punched full of holes is handy.

About one gallon of the solution will be required to each bushel of grain.

After sprinkling, shovel the grain over until every seed is wet.

Then cover the grain with tarps or sacks and leave covered for six hours.

It is necessary to cover the grain as the formalin gas is what kills the spores.

Spread out to dry, when it will be ready to seed.

Caution:—Do not use a stronger solution or leave covered longer than above recommended as that might lower the seeds germination.

There are several patented appliances on the market, some of which are good to use when treating with formaldehyde.

We desire to express our appreciation of the thoughtful consideration of members of the Red Cross Society, of Galt, Alberta, Canada, in sending beautiful floral offerings as a tribute to the memory of their late vice-president, and assure them that their kindness and sympathy will ever be gratefully remembered.

School Fairs

Seven Fair have been conducted in Alberta for three years by the Provincial Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Provincial Department of Education. In order to increase the Fairs and to enable the people of the Province to judge the value of the school products, the Government has enlarged the larger part of the schools for home gardens and school Fairs have so far demonstrated their value that there is now a strong demand from different parts of the Province for the Fairs to be held.

To extend the work and serve the maximum number of districts it has been found necessary, in make some changes in the plan. Two important changes have been made; first, the Agricultural Society has been given a larger share in the work in the smaller districts so as to increase the opportunities for the communities in which the Fairs are being held are being asked to assume a greater part of the expense and work that has been the case hitherto. On condition that the "standard" of the fairs will remain as the communities will permit the Department of Agriculture will make the following contributions to a School Fair:

1. Through the Schools of Agriculture, the Department of Agriculture and supervisor where needed.

2. Supply seeds to the schools of participating. The average value of the seeds will be about $0.00 per school.

3. Print instructional circulars for distribution among the pupils.

4. Supply mounting cards for plant specimens and pins for insect collections.

5. In co-operation with the Committee prepare and print the Prize List.

6. Print Entry Forms, Entry Tags, and Prize Cards for the Fair.

7. Grant Liv Stock prizes to the extent of $25.00 per Fair.

8. Provide Judges for the Fair.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE COMMITTEE.

I Select the schools to be included.
The group should consist of from 8 to 25 schools.

II Select the schools of Agriculture in the list of schools which are to be included. A Form is provided for this purpose.

III Receive the seeds and deliver them to representatives of the schools.

IV Prepare the Prize List and other matter than those prepared by the Department. The Committee should adopt any method they desire to raise this money, but it is suggested that the Board of each school participate be asked to contribute a sum to the fund. The amount per school should be sufficient to cover the cost of the materials and labor per school.

V Make all local arrangements necessary for the success of the Fair.

Points to be considered in organizing and conducting a School Fair:

(1) The School Inspector should be consulted before definite action is taken to what extent a group of schools should be included.

(2) The Committee which has charge of the Fair should, if possible, represent the various existing organizations for the promotion of Agriculture.

(3) For the purpose of advertising the Fair and in order to attract the public, meetings at which these would be representatives of the schools concerned together with as many of the teachers as could attend.
If notice of meeting is given in the paper, the public would be invited to attend.

(4) Some member of the Committee, preferably one living at or near the center, should be appointed to conduct the correspondence and receive material sent from the Schools of Agriculture.

(5) The Prize List submitted should be discussed at the earliest date convenient and returned to the Agricultural School in order that it may be printed and distributed among the pupils before the schools close.

(6) It may be advisable for the Committee to interview the local Bank Manager with a view to securing the services of a printer.

(7) The forms, giving lists of schools and information regarding the schools to be represented, prompt the Agricultural School.

(8) As soon as the list of schools is received, Forms will be sent to the teachers on which they will make application for the seeds required by their schools. These applications should be extended to include as far as possible the delivery of the seeds prior to planting time.

(9) The Agricultural School will be able to get information and assistance by application to him.
